What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small text file that is placed on your hard drive by a web page server. Cookies contain information that a web server can later read in the domain that issued the cookie to you. Some cookies will only be in usage if you use certain features or select certain preferences, and some cookies are essential to the website and will always be used.

According to the EU legislation, we can store cookies on your device, if they are strictly necessary for the operation of this website. For all other types of cookies, we need your permission. You can at any time change or withdraw your consent from the cookies we collect.

Why do we need cookies?

We use cookies and other technologies to ensure everyone who uses the website has the best possible experience. For example, when you use our website, we may place a number of cookies in your browser. We use these cookies to enable us to hold session information as you navigate from page to page within the website, improve your experience, and track and analyze usage and other statistical information.

If you elect not to activate cookies or disable cookies later, you may still visit our website, but your ability to use some features or areas of those offerings may be limited.

How do you turn off cookies?

You can generally activate or later deactivate the use of cookies through a functionality built into your web browser. If you want to disable cookies, then you can find instructions for managing your browser settings at these links:
